

Competitive Trail: NATRC Standings and Awards

Competitive trail riding is a distance sport competition over a measured trail that is completed within a window of time. Unlike in endurance riding, factors other than speed are considered. In a timed ride, horses may not come in under or over a certain time, and veterinary checks, rider behavior and other elements play a role in the placings. The horse is evaluated on performance, manners, and related criteria. The NATRC is the largest sanctioning organization.

Part-bred indicated in italics; "stb" (said to be) indicates breed information provided by rider and not confirmed outside of the ride list.
